

Whether you're a new business getting your feet off the ground, or well established and know exactly what you want, we'll provide it: Inexpensively, professionally, effectively.

Mediamarble is a well established design studio with over five years experience in helping both small and large companies achieve an effective Web presence.

Our knowledge of designing for the Web (and quite frankly simply using it!) has taught us how to avoid the problems that can all too often turn users away from a badly designed Website. Instead, we know how to create a site to effectively communicate with the Web user, turning them into new customers.

We pride ourselves on making sites which are as user-friendly for the customer as possible, whilst also being a little different and visually more striking to the more mainstream site designs commonly seen on the Web. You won't see us use any templates or tired looking Web page layouts!

We also firmly believe that Web design really shouldn't cost the earth, and we remain one of the best value-for-money suppliers within the UK – simply compare our costs on the following pages to those of our competitors.

At Mediamarble, we offer peace of mind: We design and build a site for you, and you own it. Our sites are hosted in a dedicated multiple PC server unit, housing state-of-the-art server technology and backup facilities, monitored 24 hours, assuring 99.9% up time and visibility of your site. We provide a unique and professional service that is second to none, with technical advice and support to match.

We can initially arrange an informal chat about your needs, when we discuss what you are looking for; the size of the site, possible features, design styles, intended audience etc, and this will form the basis of a design brief to us.

From this we will create some initial ideas and put these online for you to view. Once we have agreed on the look of the site we further communicate and make amendments to designs. This work remains online so you can see the design progressing, until we have constructed your new fully working online presence.
